

A Symposium on Advancing Shared Decision Making in Australia

Monday, 9 September 2024
8:00 am - 5:00 pm
Bond University, Gold Coast

If you are involved in researching, teaching, or implementing shared decision making, please join us at this 1-day symposium.

The symposium aims to:

- Increase awareness of what shared decision making researchers and clinician-researchers in Australia and the region are doing and encourage collaboration.
- Encourage discussions about facilitating shared decision making implementation in Australia and strategies and policies for doing so.
- Identify research gaps in shared decision making, with particular relevance to the Australian context.

The symposium will involve presentations from international and national SDM experts and collaborative discussion among all attendees. Program details will be available closer to the date.

For any questions about the symposium, please contact Prof. Tammy Hoffmann:
iebh@bond.edu.au

INSTITUTE FOR Evidence-Based Healthcare

in collaboration with:

Australian SDM Network

You need to register for this event by scanning or clicking the QR code. There is no registration cost.

